To whom it may concern,

I held the position of Head of Operations and Marketing at Acasta Europe, and was Claudia's manager during her two years at the company.

Claudia showed consistent dedication and commitment to her role. Starting as a Senior Marketing Executive, she progressed to Marketing Manager and took over the responsibilities of running the department, managing the websites, social media, events, partner communications, and branding. She quickly became an integral part of the team whilst using her initiative to expand her skill set and adapt quickly to changes within the business.

One example of her work is the planning and execution of the company's stand at BIBA, an insurance conference attended by over 9,000 delegates. She managed the project from end to end with exceptional diligence and creativity. I was extremely proud of the hard work she put into it and the business it brought to the company as a result.

Additionally, Claudia worked well across the company, building strong relationships and helping to integrate the marketing department with other teams. This included assisting with maximising the potential of new business opportunities and ensuring marketing activity aligned with the strategic goals of the business.

In her role, she also mentored and trained the Marketing Executive, helping them to expand their skills in developing websites, managing social media and events. Claudia took the time to share her knowledge and experience, and provided great support offering feedback and encouragement to aid their progression and growth.

Claudia would be a valuable asset to any company. She is hardworking, dependable and reliable, achieving consistent results. Her combined skills of creativity, organisation and understanding of business strategic goals enable her to comfortably work independently or as part of a team.

I am certain she will continue to grow and thrive, and would be happy to discuss Claudia's experience further if required.

Kind Regards,
Ellie Bower
